

Conference Proposals and Reviewers Wanted

Deadline for Submissions and Signups is Monday, Feb. 20

NCSS is currently receiving proposals for presentations at its 2012 Annual Meeting in Seattle, Washington. Proposals are needed for all audience levels and in all social studies disciplines. To submit a proposal, go to:

<http://www.socialstudies.org/conference/proposals>

NCSS is also looking for volunteers to review proposals online. As a reviewer, you will read and rate 10 to 15 proposals in the discipline and audience level of your choice. Your scores will be averaged with those of other reviewers to help NCSS produce the best program possible for the Seattle conference. Past reviewers say they enjoy the process and also learn how to submit better proposals themselves.

Reviewing will take place between February 27 and March 15. As a thank you for your time and effort, you will receive a ten percent discount on the conference registration. To sign up as a proposal reviewer go to:

<http://2012.ncss.org/review/signup.php>

If you have any questions, please contact:

Diane Hart
Proposal Review Chair
dianehart@mac.com